Dear Professor Erman

I came back to Berlin from Wean this morning. I do not know whether you will be in the Museum tomorrow and as you do not read again until Friday in the University, I thought it better to write to you at once. I will go to the Museum in the forenoon tomorrow and if you intend to work there tomorrow you need not bother writing to me. Otherwise, will you be so kind as to send me a Schein for the Museum and to sign the library form which I enclose?

Dr. Junker and I have been working together since the 10th May. We have got through a good deal of work which I will tell you about when I see you. I did not find Wien very pleasant on account of the University troubles there. That is why I came away so soon. May I presume your permission to attend your lectures on the Pyramidentexte? It is now too late to matriculate. Dr. K. Schmidt seems to be reading Coptic Texts. I do not know him personally; but I dare say he would not object to my joining his class. Dr. Junker wished to be remembered to you. With

Kind regards to yourself, Frau
Geheirat & family

In mine

Yours v. sincerely

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher but appears to contain several lines of cursive script.
