OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

October 18, 1926.

Professor Adolf Erman,
Peter-Lennestr. 36,
Berlin-Dahlem, Germany.

My dear Friend:

This is merely a few lines of congratulation on the publication of the second half of the first volume of the Wörterbuch. I am delighted with the physical appearance of the volumes. The two parts when bound up are going to make a sumptuous volume and I am very eager to have mine bound.

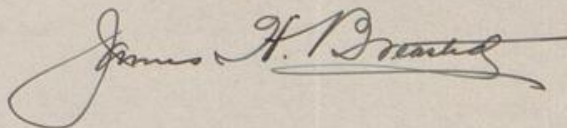

It must be a great relief to you to realize that the end toward which you have been striving for so many years is now so near and I can understand with what deep pleasure you must be holding this volume in your hands.

I am very much hoping that on my return from Egypt next Spring I may be able to make the journey by way of Berlin. In any case I wish to do so. I want very much to see you. There is a great deal about which I would like to talk with you.

Frances and I have been very much distressed to hear of the sickness in your family and especially of your own accident. We both earnestly hope that you are now quite recovered and able to walk again. We are very much relieved to know that Käthe's health is now so much better.

With heartiest good wishes from us all, believe me

Always devotedly yours,

JHB:MDS
