Your kind letter arrived safely, with its welcome promise of personal good will and of scientific cooperation. I was already prepared for this by the tone of your report on this Distribution which I saw at Gillingham & shall do my utmost to promote cordial relations among men of good will; but it is going to be very difficult.
My copy is very noble, thank you.
We are now trying to arrange to go abroad for several days to take up work again at Hinksey
