NEW YORK, Oct 20 1903.

Dear Prof. Ewan.

The enclosed clipping may be of interest to you. It is the first picture that I have seen showing the biga. Perhaps you saw the original.

I am still working at the Metropolitan Museum, making a Cypriote ^{and} an Egyptian Catalogue. I wish that they would print one like yours. I presume that your Royal Library has the Descriptive Atlas of the Cypriote Antiquities in the Metropolitan Museum. I would like to have you examine the third volume of the set. Most of it is my work, and it was finished last May. If it is not in the library it ought to be, in fact in both libraries. I should like to know what you think of it.

My family is a lively one. My oldest boy is taller than I, and my only girl is taller than her mother. There are two other boys, and they are just of a size.

Remember me most kindly to Mrs Ewan and believe me
Yours truly
Charles Gillett
