Dear Professor Eрман,

You will remember that I wrote to you about this time last year, to ask you to contribute an article to a Festschrift for Griffith. You felt then that the state of your health did not enable you to promise anything; and I write again now, while (am circulating) all those who have promised contributions with a reminder, to ask you ~~again~~ once more if there is any chance of your writing something. We hope to start sending the first MS. to the printers very shabby, and to have received all MSS. by the end of September this year. But it would be possible to make an exception in your case, if you wanted more time.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely
J. H. K. Manville
