Riversdale

Ashton under Lyne

23 March 1902.

Dear Friend,

You have perhaps heard of our precious loss. My dear wife who was everything to her father as she was to me passed away on the 2nd inst - three Sundays ago.

She bid me work on, but she has always been my companion in work and happiness for nearly six years whether we were together or separated, and it is strange to be doing things which I can never talk of or show to her. Perhaps she is closer than we can tell.

My sister has come to take charge of the house and it is a great comfort to us that she can do so. There are heaps of work to be done, most interesting work. Thompson is here now reading 'Keefe' with me,

I hope to hear good accounts of you; but do not write until you have time for a line or two.

Yours very truly

Edw. Ruffin
