Herrn Prof. Dr. Adolph Erman
Berlin-Dahlem
Peter-Lennestraße 36.
Germany.

Dear Professor Erman: The enclosed ten dollars in currency is for the Christmas season for yourself and your family. The amount is small but is an expression of good will from friends in the United States. A gentleman who recently came from Berlin said to me that one dollar bills was the most serviceable thing that could be sent. We read of food riots and the troubles the Government has had as a matter of precaution I am sending the amount in two parcels. Another with a like amount will follow in about three days. We live in a land of abundance and of extravagance and ~~wast~~ waste. All agricultural products except cotton now sell for about pre-war prices, but all manufactured products sell for something like forty per cent above pre-war prices. I am of opinion the currency is more certain to reach you than goods or food products would be and trust the two parcels will reach you safely and afford you a somewhat more comfortable time than you otherwise would have had.

Truly yours Grant Williams
