[The page contains several columns of ancient Greek text written on papyrus. The text is heavily damaged, with large sections missing, particularly in the center and on the left side. The remaining fragments are difficult to decipher but appear to be organized into columns. Some legible fragments include words like "προσδοκῶν", "ἐπιμένει", and "καταλείπει".]

[Faded handwritten text on a heavily damaged, stained, and torn piece of parchment or paper. The text is illegible due to the condition of the document.]
